A woman in the crowd

In times such as these, it would seem strange (even wrong) to be in such a large crowd of people... yet that is where our story takes us today. In a crowd. Probably a large crowd. Centred around one man. Jesus.

See photo for story.

How crazy is that? That even in a large crowd, Jesus knew someone had touched him, that someone had needed him. 'My daughter' – His love for her so apparent. It might feel that today, when we can't touch people, when we have to self-isolate, that we're just part of the masses doing the same thing, BUT that's not the case! Jesus loves you so much and He'll pick you out of the crowd to tell you that.

Craft ideas

You'll need: Paper, Pencil (to draw the outline), Scissors (to cut out)

A nice, easy to follow guide - <https://www.instructables.com/.../Make-a-circle-of-paper-chain.../>

Or if you fancy a slight alternative (with funky music)- <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pocc2DdmrF4&feature=youtu.be>

Let's make our own crowd! Pick who each person is and colour them in, they are all loved by God!

You'll need: Paper Plate, Red Crayon/Tape (for the cross), String (keeping it on your head)

An option with more readily available materials

Just as Jesus helped the woman in the story, who can we help today?

Songs

Miss Polly Had A Dolly

Hokey Cokey (get everyone who you can touch to join in!)

Whoopah Wahey (you might recognise this from our 2019 Holiday Club

Let's see those actions! Send in your photos and videos 🤗

God Bless.

A woman in the crowd

There was always a crowd of people around Jesus wherever he went. Some wanted to be healed by him, or ask him to heal someone for them.

One day there was a woman in the crowd who had been ill for many years. She had spent all her money paying doctors to cure her, but their treatments had not helped her. In fact, she was getting worse.

She believed in Jesus and his wonderful powers of healing, and was determined to get close to him. "If I can just touch his clothes," she thought, "I know I will be well again." At last she touched the hem of Jesus' cloak and she knew at once that she had been cured.

Suddenly, Jesus stopped. He knew power had gone out of him. "Who touched my cloak?" he asked.

The disciples were astonished. "With all these people pressing round you, how can you ask that question?"

But Jesus continued to look all round the crowd. Then the woman came forward, fell at his feet trembling with fear, and admitted what she had done.

"My daughter," said Jesus kindly, "your faith has healed you. Go in peace and be free of your illness."
